WHAT THE NATION EXPECTS IN PRODUCTS OF HAWAII

Following are extracts from an address to Hon. O. P. Austin, chief of the Bureau of Consular, Department of Commerce and Labor, before the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia July 17, 1912. His references to what the Nation should expect from Hawaii in the line of tropical products are calculated to make our business men sit up and take notice.

In one great class of products we have been in the past absolutely dependent on other countries. While it is true that we are the world's greatest producer of bread and meat and coal and iron and steel manufactures, we have been in the past entirely dependent upon other parts of the world for tropical products. And it is in these articles that the chief growth in our importations has occurred. Year by year the people consume increased quantities of tropical products for food and drink. Our imports of sugar have grown from a little more than 1,000,000,000 pounds in 1870 to five and one-half billions at the present time. If we include that from our own tropical islands, those of coffee from 235,000,000 pounds to nearly 1,000,000,000; tea from 47,000-000 pounds to 100,000,000; and cacao from less than 4,000,000 pounds to 170,000,000.

But more important than this is the fact that the great manufacturing interests of the country are making greater and greater demands upon the Tropics for their supplies of raw materials. The imports of fibers, chiefly tropical, which in 1870 amounted to less than 44,000 tons, were last year nearly 350,000 tons; those of rubber have in the same time increased from less than 10,000-000 pounds to over 100,000,000 pounds; tobacco, from 6,000,000 pounds to 50-000,000 pounds; silk, from half a million pounds to over 20,000,000 pounds; and cotton, from less than 2,000,000 pounds to over 100,000,000.

The result is that the value of tropical and subtropical products imported has grown from $143,000,000 in 1870 to about $700,000,000, including that from our own islands. The value of our imports classified as manufacturers' raw materials" in 1890 was $160,000,000 and amounted to 22 per cent of the total; in the year just ended the value of manufacturers' materials imported was about $550,000,000, and formed about 23 per cent of the grand total.

Our Growing Dependence Upon the Tropics.

What does this mean? Clearly that we are increasing our dependence upon the Tropics.

What does it mean to the producers and manufacturers and exporters of the country? Clearly that they should seek to pay in the products of the field and factory for the increasing millions of tropical products which they import and must continue to import, and that in the great undeveloped markets of South America and Africa and Asia and Oceania, which supply these tropical products, we should seek to enlarge our sales and encourage mutual interchange of commodities.

What does it mean to this Nation, which has recently extended its control over three great groups of tropical islands with an area of 150,000 square miles, a population of 10,000-000 people, and an unmeasured possibility for the production of the very articles which we are now importing in increased quantities and must continue to import in greater quantities?
Clearly that much of this great mass of the necessities of life and manufacture which we are now importing can be produced under the American flag, with American capital, and by American citizens.

Any one of these islands, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Guam, Tutuila and the Philippines Islands, is capable of producing a part of the hemp, the jute, the coffee, the cacao, the tropical fruits, the sugar, the high-grade tobacco, and probably the silk and the tea and and india rubber for which we are now sending hundreds of millions of dollars to other countries. I would not see them take a dollar from the earnings of the American farmer, but until he can produce at home the sugar and the high grade tobacco and silk and rice for which we are now sending our millions abroad why should we not expend that money in our own islands, and in so doing build up in them a splendid market for our products of the farm and factory?

Looking to Hawaii.

The Hawaiian Islands have increased their producing power more than thirtyfold since we annexed them compellingly by the reciprocity treaty of 1876, and have also increased their consumption of our products thirty-fold. In the short 12 years since the actual annexation of those islands their production has enormously increased and our exports to them have more than doubled. In the 14 years since Porto Rico came under the American flag it has increased twenty-fold its supply of tropical products in our markets and correspondingly increased its consumption of American goods. In the 14 years since the American flag was hoisted at Manila our exports to the Philippine Islands have increased fiftyfold, and those to all Asia and Oceania have trebled.

Future of American Commerce.

What of the future? What is the promise of this magnificent country of ours, this land of plenty, where are now produced more of the requirements of life than in any other land, and which is to become a perfect unit through this addition of tropical territory, to give us the one class of materials in which we have been lacking in the past?

In my mind's eye I see a great, a wonderful development, far beyond that before which the world now stands in amazement. I see our manufacturers again doubling and trebling their already magnificent output and pushing their surplus into every market of the world. I see Niagara and countless smaller waterfalls furnishing electricity to be carried by wire to every city and hamlet and farm, to be used for light and heat and power, in manufacturing, and for transportation on rivers and canals and railways and roads. I see a great canal connecting the two oceans and putting our eastern and western shores in close water communication and our great ports in direct touch with the markets of the whole world. I see an other ship canal connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic, with ocean vessels landing at the docks of Cleveland and Chicago and Milwaukee and Duluth, and making that greatest producing section of the whole world a great ocean frontage. I see another canal connecting the Lakes with the Mississippi River, and a great system of light draft steamers and barges carrying the products of that great valley to the ocean steamship either upon the Lakes or the Gulf of Mexico as convenience of location may determine. I see our islands of the Pacific supplying us with hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of their productions and taking hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of our products in exchange. I see the islands of the Gulf of Mexico one by one knocking at our doors and coming under the American flag and furnishing us through open doors their tropical products to mingle with those of the islands of the Pacific. I see a great railway line extending from Alaska at the north to Argentina at the south, connecting the railway systems of the two continents and bringing the great markets of that continent into close relation with our own. I see a steady growth of American influence and a development of closer commercial relations with our neighbors of the north and on the south. I see a magnificent fleet of steamships, controlled by American capital and genius, and flying the American flag, penetrating every sea, carrying American goods to every continent and every clime, and sending them to the interior of every country by American engines, in American cars, and upon American rails. I see the product of the American farm and factory in every land throughout the civilized world, and with this accomplishment, increased activity for American producers and manufacturers, and increased prosperity among all classes of American citizens.

CHILDREN INJURED

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children.
Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associated bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but possitive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character.
They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.
Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Honolulu only at our store. — The Rexall Store, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Fort and Hotel streets.

R. A. Walsh, a banker of Sheridan,
